

“Every project is handled with care,
as if it were my own.”

At Chenier Design, instead of working with a contractor when building or remodeling their home or office, my clients and I work side-by-side establishing a plan to incorporate their vision and lifestyle with modern, sustainable trends in architecture and design.

Direct and Measurable Savings

Hiring a designer at the outset of the project instead of a contractor saves you, the client, time and money. A Designer oversees the project with the client from the beginning to the end. Your project is built according to the specifications determined by you. After all, this is YOUR project!

There is nothing more frustrating for a client when -- in order to save money -- the contractor makes a snap decision to cut something from the project, whether it's something small like materials used, to aspects of the design itself! Those decisions need to be handled with the highest care and fully-transparent communication must exist between all involved parties.

After over fifteen years of experience planning, designing and execution, I have streamlined the process, insuring complete accuracy and attention to detail.

From concept to completion, a “dream-project-come-true” is my goal.

Highest Level of Quality

Many of my clients work in entertainment and other creative arts but ALL of my clients are successful in their businesses and maintain a high level of detail. Possessing the same work ethic, my attention to detail, no matter how minute, shows in all of my work. Numerous hours are spent within the project ensure that all details are accounted for, with no stone left unturned. Once plans are passed to the contractor for the build phase, I oversee the project through to its completion saving time, money and provides peace of mind throughout construction.

Every project is handled with care, as if it were my own.

Communication

As a proud recipient of a Masters in Architecture from the Southern California Institute of Architecture (SCIARC), I offer nearly two decades of experience designing small, residential projects and mid-sized commercial projects. I offer a genuine Designer to the client relationship rather than just a “plan draftsman.”

Dedication

With my dedication to clear communication, an innate ability to efficiently translate a client's needs into reality, my clients will attest to my methods being the most efficient and advantageous to them -- saving them time and money in places they didn't know possible!

The Chenier Process

The process of designing and building your environment should be relaxed, educational and fun! I look forward to guiding you with your next project. Contact me today and let's make your dream into a reality. jon@chenierdesign.info
